BOMBARDMENT OF NANKING IS POSTPONED

AMERICANS AND OTHERS ARE COMING OUT

ADMIRAL H. H. HOUGH AT NANKING REPORTS TO ADMIRAL WILLIAMS

INSOLENT MESSAGE RECEIVED FROM THE CHINESE AT NANKING

Washington, March 25.—(UP)—Threatened bombardment of Nanking has been postponed because Americans and other foreigners are coming out of the city.

Admiral H. H. Hough at Nanking reported this today to Admiral C. S. Williams, United States Asiatic fleet commander, after earlier messages announcing plans for bombarding the city. An insolent message from the Chinese—and the fear that more Americans would be killed—had prompted Hough to threaten a bombardment tonight.

Hough's message was dated 5:50 P. M., Nanking time, and was relayed at 9:32 P. M. Shanghai time by Williams.

NANKING MAY BE SHELLED TONIGHT

Washington, March 25.—Anglo-American naval forces at Nanking will begin shelling that city tonight, unless the situation as to foreigners' safety there improves immediately, or unless the British forces decide this is inadvisable, Admiral H. H. Hough, commander of the United States Yangtze patrol force, reported to his superior, Admiral C. S. Williams, today. The message was relayed to the navy department this forenoon by Williams.

(Eleven o'clock A. M. eastern standard time is midnight in Nanking, which means at the hour this information was released by the navy department the issue in Nanking may have been settled.)

London, March 25.—An admiralty dispatch sent from Nanking at 9 P. M. Thursday—24 hours ago—said that 100 Americans at Nanking and 10 Britishers were unaccounted for at that time.

The dispatch said that 31 foreigners were evacuated from Nanking after the shelling started Thursday at 3:47 P. M., and that later an ultimatum was sent to the commander of the Chinese troops. This ultimatum resulted in the sending of an escort of the best Chinese troops available to assist in the evacuation of remaining foreigners.

Shelling from British and American warships in the harbor was directed at areas uninhabited by civilians, the dispatch said. The Cantonese troops were out of control from the moment of their arrival in Nanking.

American women and children were being evacuated from Hankow and British and American women and children were being evacuated at Ching-Kiang aboard destroyers.

Manila, P. I., March 25.—Three more American destroyers steamed away from Manila harbor for various Chinese ports today.

Upon receipt of word of dangerous anti-foreign settlement in Chinese coastal cities last night, the destroyer Edsall was dispatched to Swatow, the Bulmer to Amoy and the Marrott to Foochow.

Peking, March 25.—The Japanese consul at Nanking has been killed, it was reported here this afternoon.

The city of Pukow, across the river from Nanking, was reported afire. A consular dispatch sent from Nanking at 3 o'clock this morning said negotiations with Chinese authorities for the relief of foreigners remaining alive in Nanking had failed.

Peking, March 25.—All foreign legations, it was expected today, would soon follow the lead of United States Minister MacMurray and order the evacuation of their nationals from all territory controlled by the Cantonese nationalists.

The latest consular report here showed there were 500 American missionaries in the Canton district, including 350 in Canton and 150 in the interior. There were seventy American missionaries in Swatow or in the interior in that vicinity, 150 at Amoy and 80 Filipinos.

WILKINS' NEWEST EXPEDITION INTO ARCTIC REGIONS

FOKKER MONOPLANE "ALASKAN" TRIES 3 TIMES TO TAKE THE AIR

THIRD ATTEMPT AT FAIRBANKS ENDS DISASTROUSLY, SKI SNAPPED

Fairbanks, Alaska, March 25.—Difficulties similar to those which blocked the exploration efforts of Captain George H. Wilkins last year are reappearing in Wilkins' newest expedition into the Arctic.

Loaded down with 4,200 pounds of equipment, the Fokker monoplane Alaskan made three unsuccessful attempts to take the air yesterday. The third trial ended disastrously when the plane turned over in the snow and snapped one of its skis.

It was reported that the ship probably would be left behind. No difficulty was expected when the two Stinson planes carrying 1,800 pounds each, attempt the take-off today.

Captain Wilkins is planning exploration flights over the Arctic ocean from Point Barrow. First he must carry supplies to the Point. In similar efforts last year his planes were so seriously damaged that the explorer could not transfer sufficient equipment to Point Barrow to permit extended research.

500 SCHOOL CHILDREN CHANT GREGORIAN MUSIC AT WINONA

Winona, Minn., March 25.—(UP)—Five hundred school children who formed part of the choir of 62,000 at the Eucharistic congress in Chicago, today chanted Gregorian music in St. Mary's church here.

The huge choir participated in the services during high mass celebrating the feast of the annunciation of the Virgin Mary.

B. B. Brett Appointed New Judge of Probate of Marshall County

St. Paul, March 25.—(UP)—Gov. Theodore Christianson today appointed B. B. Brett, Stephens attorney, as judge of probate in Marshall county. Brett succeeds Peter N. Holm, brother of Mike Holm, secretary of state, who had been judge of probate there for nearly 25 years before his death three weeks ago.

Admiral H. H. Hough at Nanking, to the navy department today. Confirming earlier reports of nationalist-uniformed soldiers' brutality to Americans, including women, Hough added that the Olagacal Seminary, Hillest school, residence of Hucheson and H. J. Mills had been destroyed by fire and American consulates had been "looted or wantonly destroyed."

(His use of the plural in speaking of consulates was unclear as Nanking has but one American consulate. The word "Olagacal," it was assumed, was a radio garbling of "theological.")

SCHALL PROBE MAY NOW LAST ALL SUMMER

COUNSEL FOR SCHALL INTIMATES JACOBS IS TOOL OF POWERFUL INTERESTS

LATTER ARE SEEKING THE RUIN OF THE BLIND SOLON, CLAIMED

St. Paul, Minn., March 25.—Arthur N. Jacobs—Sen. Schall's Colonel House—is but a tool in the hands of powerful interests seeking the ruin of the blind solon, counsel for Thos. D. Schall intimated today as the state senate investigation threatened to extend into the summer.

Tom Davis, Schall attorney, declared that he would base his attack on the political conspiracy against his client and would question more than 40 witnesses in an effort to ascertain their interest in the election probe of the Minnesota senator.

The senate was expected today to provide an extension of time for the investigation as it became increasingly apparent that the probe would not be completed at the adjournment of the legislature.

An executive committee was held by the investigating committee, as Jacobs finished his seventh consecutive day of testimony, and it was decided that the senate would not only be asked for an extension of time but would also be asked to prescribe the manner in which the report of the committee should be made.

Jacobs is well on the way to establishing a record on a senate witness stand, for Davis announced that he would cross-examine the former Schall worker when the investigation reconvenes next Tuesday, and would go over every bit of testimony submitted by him thus far. Davis expected to spend at least four or five days on Jacobs alone.

Forty other witnesses have been subpoenaed by the Schall counsel, which assures a lengthy session.

Most of the testimony offered by Jacobs at the last meeting of the week revolved about the relationship which existed between he and Schall. The highlight of the day concerned the story of a fight between Jacobs and Ed Jennings, Schall's chauffeur, and the peace overtures made by Schall.

Jennings was said to have beaten Jacobs when the latter told him that Schall had treated the so-called campaign manager unfairly. Jacobs said Jennings struck him with a billy and threatened to "put you in your grave."

After Jacobs brought suit against Jennings on second degree assault charges Schall was said to have interceded to have the charges removed.

"Sen. Schall told me that if I would drop the Jennings case he would see if something could be done to cause several civil suits, that had been instituted against me, dropped," Jacobs testified.

Numerous letters between Schall and Jacobs were introduced into the evidence to show the friendly relations between the pair.

Jacobs was still on the stand when the hearing adjourned until Tuesday at 1:30 P. M.

KING ALBERT OF BELGIANS HAS INFLUENZA

Brussels, March 25.—(UP)—King Albert of the Belgians was confined to his room today by influenza for the second time in recent weeks.

LOVER DEAD AND SWEETHEART HAS 4 GUN WOUNDS

Fillmore, Calif., March 25.—(UP)—Louis Berg, 24, of Fargo, N. D., is dead, and his sweetheart, Louise Bannaberg, of San Jose, is suffering from four gun wounds, as an aftermath to a quarrel in a rooming house here today.

According to Sheriff Robert Clark of Ventura, Berg committed suicide after shooting the girl and leaving her in the hallway of a house in which they both roomed.

Both were employed in a Fillmore cafe and Berg is said to have waited for the girl after she had gone to a motion picture theater with another man last night. When she appeared, shortly after midnight, Berg opened fire with a .32 calibre revolver, wounding Miss Bannaberg four times.

After the shooting Berg went back to the cafe, served several customers and then went to a field nearby and committed suicide.

The girl was found suffering from wounds in the leg, thigh and arms. None are believed to be serious.

CHINESE TONG WARFARE CLAIMS TWO MORE LIVES

TIMELY ARRIVAL OF POLICE PREVENT FURTHER CASUALTIES IN CHICAGO

TWO YEARS' TRUCE BETWEEN RIVAL GANGS HAS BEEN ENDED

Chicago, March 25.—(UP)—Timely arrival of police prevented further casualties in Chicago's Chinese tong warfare which has claimed two additional lives during the last twelve hours.

Moy Sing, 58, and Moy Yuk were shot down during fighting which is being suppressed by constant vigilance on the part of police.

Three heavily armed Chinese were discovered in a Chinese laundry after four other Chinese were observed to have retreated from the door as a police patrol drove up to answer a call from Sing's laundry nearby. It is believed that an attack was frustrated just in time as the three oriental testify they were anticipating hostilities.

Sing was shot down in his laundry and Moy Wood, 28, was wounded, supposedly by four members of the On Leung tong gang. Hip Sing followers are believed to have fatally wounded Kong, a cousin of Frank Moy, head of the On Leung group and unofficial mayor of Chicago's Chinatown.

Tong warfare was renewed in Chicago Wednesday night when a two years' truce between the rival gangs ended. The Hip Sings are believed to have struck first, according to Deputy Chief of Detectives Stege.

LOEB GETS A "GOOF" COMPANION

WEALTHY "THRILL SLAYER" CROARKIN WORK IN JOLIET PRISON YARD

Joliet, Ill., March 25.—(UP)—Richard Loeb, wealthy "thrill slayer" of Bobby Franks and now in charge of keeping the yard of the Joliet state penitentiary free from refuse, today received an assistant in his work.

The helpmate is Harold J. Croarkin, known as "the goof" and convicted slayer of six-year-old Walter Schmitt who is destined to pass his remaining years in Joliet prison.

Croarkin arrived in Joliet yesterday, was listed as convict No. 1187, and assigned to police duty under Loeb.

SENATE CRIME PREVENTION COMMITTEE ACTS

ESTABLISHMENT OF CENTRAL BUREAU OF IDENTIFICATION RECOMMENDED

ALSO RESTRICTIONS ON THE SALE OF FIREARMS ALSO FAVORED

St. Paul, March 25.—(UP)—Five to 30 lashes "well laid on the bare back" of murderers and gunmen, received the recommendation late Thursday of the Minnesota senate crime prevention committee.

Establishment of the central bureau of identification and restriction on the sale of firearms also were recommended by the committee.

Capital punishment, however, was voted down.

Whipping is provided in the committee bill for male persons convicted of:

Murder, in the second and third degree.

Manslaughter in the first degree. Robbery or burglary while armed with a dangerous weapon.

Assault in the first degree or carnal knowledge of a child.

"Not less than five nor more than 30 lashes well laid on the bare back" shall be applied to convicted criminals in addition to the usual prison sentence, within 10 days after the person is admitted to a penal institution, the bill provides.

Sheriffs would be called upon to perform the same duty in cases where the convicted person is not sent to a prison.

Sen. G. D. McCubrey, Moorhead, one of the authors of the bill, declared whipping to be one of the most effective deterrents to crime and that the superintendent of one institution told him that 10 lashes were equal to 40 years in prison, in the minds of criminals.

Sen. Sherman W. Child, Minneapolis, chairman of the committee, voted against the whipping bill as it is drawn now. Child said that he might favor flogging for third offenders in major crimes, but to apply the law to its letter would mean the loss of "from 75 to 100 years in our attitude toward criminal legislation."

A central bureau of identification, comprised of 12 persons, would be established under the committee bill, which provided that the bureau would gather reports of crime from sheriff and police from throughout the state.

Additional penalty is provided for persons possessing firearms while committing an act of violence, in another bill recommended by the committee.

SHOOTS MOTHER WHEN BARRED SEEING DAUGHTER

San Francisco, March 25.—(UP)—Mrs. Fred Klatt, 30, was killed and Mrs. Vernon Olson possibly fatally wounded here late yesterday by Roy Reaner, 30, when he was refused permission to see Mrs. Klatt's daughter, Genevieve, 15.

Reaner called at the women's apartment and asked to see the girl. Mrs. Klatt refused, whereupon, according to witnesses, the man pulled a revolver and started shooting. Mrs. Klatt was instantly killed.

Reaner fled in an automobile.

SKULL CRUSHED BY STICK FLUNG BY CIRCULAR SAW

Fergus Falls, Minn., March 25.—(UP)—His skull crushed by a stick of cordwood flung by a circular saw, George Sawyer, prominent young farmer, was dead at his home in Buse township today. Sawyer was killed when the stick of cordwood was torn from his hands by the saw and hurled at his head.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN ALBANIA TODAY

Athens, March 25.—(UP)—Martial law has been declared in Albania because of a revolutionary movement against the government of President Ahmed Zogol, refugees arriving at the Greek frontier said today.

Twelve army classes were ordered mobilized, the refugees said.

Strained relations between Italy and Jugo-Slavia last week were caused by reports that Jugo-Slavia was mobilizing along the Albanian border and was fostering a revolt against the Zogol regime, which is friendly to Italy. Diplomatic pressure from major European nations apparently had prevented a serious flareup, but if actual revolution has broken out, the situation may become more tense again, observers believed.

ANTI FOREIGN FEELING FLAMES AT SHANGHAI

HATRED OF FOREIGN DEVILS IS GROWING TO DANGEROUS PROPORTIONS

MEAGER REPORTS FILTER IN FROM CITIES IN INTERIOR AND ALONG COAST

By H. FRANCIS MISSELTWITZ (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Shanghai, March 25.—Fanned by outbreaks in Nanking, anti-foreign feeling flamed again here today, and meager reports from cities in the interior and along the southern coast indicated hatred of the "foreign devils" was growing to dangerous proportions.

The U. S. consul general broadcast a radio warning to all Americans in the danger area, advising them to evacuate at once. Two hundred and fifty U. S. missionaries were reported en route to Shanghai from Nanking.

Two women and one man were killed in Shanghai when guerrillas fired into the French concessions from the roof of a building.

Authentic reports of the situation in Nanking were lacking, but it was known many American and British citizens had been killed and wounded. Nationalists here charged that 2,000 Chinese had been killed in yesterday's bombardment by American and British warships, but that was believed exaggerated.

The nationalists also said looting in Nanking was done by irresponsible mobs and retreating northern soldiers, and not by southern troops.

Dr. J. S. Williams, Shawnee, O., vice president of Nanking University, was the only slain American officially identified. It was rumored that British Consul General Giles, wounded yesterday, had died. Another report said he was missing.

The U. S. destroyer Preston, conveying refugee ships to the mouth of the Yangtze, was fired on at Chinkiang and replied with four-pound guns, routing the attackers. No casualties were reported.

Brig. Gen. Smedley Butler arrived at Shanghai today and took command of the American marines.

American missions at Nanking were reported to have been looted. Six British marines were missing there, the Standard Oil Company learned from its Nanking offices, with which it was in hourly communication.

Standard Oil boats were fired on at Kiangyin Forts, it was reported.

The entire Standard Oil staff at Nanking, including E. T. Hobart, D. C. Sims and an official named Green was safe.

A conference of admirals of foreign fleets anchored here instructed commanders of ships at Nanking to avoid further drastic action pending arrival of General Chiang Kai-Shek, Cantonese commander, who is due there Sunday.

Chiang had protested the bombardment of Nanking by British and American vessels. In a message sent through the Japanese consulate at Wuhu, he asked that foreigners cease using force, asserting that settlement of the situation must await his arrival.

Chiang said he believed the bombardment was unprovoked. The nationalists have no quarrel with foreigners, he added, concluding that he deplored the incident.

$10 PENALTY IF HE HAS NO GOOD EXCUSE

CLAIMS OF ILLNESS MUST BE ACCOMPANIED BY PHYSICIANS CERTIFICATE

SLACKERS TO BE SUMMONED IN TO COURT, FALSE STATEMENTS PUNISHABLE

St. Paul, March 25.—(UP)—Every Minnesota voter who fails to cast his ballot, without good excuse, would be fined $10 under the provisions of a bill introduced in the state senate today.

Sen. E. L. MacLean, Minneapolis, presented the measure in the upper house which stipulates that "every person who is duly registered and entitled to vote, or who is entitled to register and vote, shall attend the polls and cast a ballot at every national, state and municipal election and the primaries thereof, or forfeit the sum of $10.

Excuses may be had upon the filing of a written statement explaining the reason to the clerk of the municipality within 72 hours after the election.

Claims of illness must be accompanied by a physician's certificate.

Clerk of the municipality is then required to certify a list of those who failed to vote, and who gave no adequate excuse, with the clerk of the county court. The clerk will then summon slackers into court for the levying of fines.

A false statement in connection with the law would be punishable by a fine of from $10 to $100.

Similar legislation is now pending in the Massachusetts legislature, according to Sen. MacLean.

Four heroes of the Indian wars in 1863 at Smith Lake, Rice county, would be honored by a monument erected by the state under a bill presented by Sen. J. E. Madigan, Maple Lake.

The bill calls for an appropriation of $750 which would be spent for the purchase of the site and the erection of the monument at Smith Lake in memory of four members of the Dustin family killed by Indians June 29, 1863.

SECRETARY MELLON TO VISIT HIS SICK DAUGHTER IN PARIS

Washington, March 25.—(UP)—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon announced today he is sailing on the Olympic for Europe to visit his daughter who is in Paris.

Mrs. David K. E. Bruce, daughter of the secretary, is in the American hospital in Paris recovering from an appendicitis operation.

Mellon, who was 72 years old yesterday, said he is taking a trip for an Easter holiday and a birthday celebration. He pointed out that it is customary for him to take a voyage to Bermuda each year at this time, but because of the illness of his daughter he has changed his plans to go to Europe.

Mellon said he would return the middle of April but he did not believe that Mrs. Bruce would come back to the United States with him. He said the trip was purely for pleasure.

HEAVY SNOW BLOCKS TRAFFIC NEAR MOORHEAD

Moorhead, Minn., March 25.—(UP)—Heavy snow today caused blocking of roads to traffic in this section of the state and difficulties in telegraph and telephone communication.

About 4 inches of snow blanketed this territory in a few hours this morning and the fall is continuing.

The weather bureau reports similar conditions throughout the northern section of the state with no indications of a let-up.

Lewistown, Pa., March 25.—(UP)—Nine persons were injured, none seriously, when train Number 3, westbound on the Pennsylvania lines, crashed into a disabled engine on a siding at a tower near here late yesterday.

Tong warfare was renewed in Chicago Wednesday night when a two years' truce between the rival gangs ended. The Hip Sings are believed to have struck first, according to Deputy Chief of Detectives Stege.

LOEB GETS A "GOOF" COMPANION

WEALTHY "THRILL SLAYER" CROARKIN WORK IN JOLIET PRISON YARD

Joliet, Ill., March 25.—(UP)—Richard Loeb, wealthy "thrill slayer" of Bobby Franks and now in charge of keeping the yard of the Joliet state penitentiary free from refuse, today received an assistant in his work.

The helpmate is Harold J. Croarkin, known as "the goof" and convicted slayer of six-year-old Walter Schmitt who is destined to pass his remaining years in Joliet prison.

Croarkin arrived in Joliet yesterday, was listed as convict No. 1187, and assigned to police duty under Loeb.

SENATE CRIME PREVENTION COMMITTEE ACTS

ESTABLISHMENT OF CENTRAL BUREAU OF IDENTIFICATION RECOMMENDED

ALSO RESTRICTIONS ON THE SALE OF FIREARMS ALSO FAVORED

St. Paul, March 25.—(UP)—Five to 30 lashes "well laid on the bare back" of murderers and gunmen, received the recommendation late Thursday of the Minnesota senate crime prevention committee.

Establishment of the central bureau of identification and restriction on the sale of firearms also were recommended by the committee.

Capital punishment, however, was voted down.

Whipping is provided in the committee bill for male persons convicted of:

Murder, in the second and third degree.

Manslaughter in the first degree. Robbery or burglary while armed with a dangerous weapon.

Assault in the first degree or carnal knowledge of a child.

"Not less than five nor more than 30 lashes well laid on the bare back" shall be applied to convicted criminals in addition to the usual prison sentence, within 10 days after the person is admitted to a penal institution, the bill provides.

Sheriffs would be called upon to perform the same duty in cases where the convicted person is not sent to a prison.

Sen. G. D. McCubrey, Moorhead, one of the authors of the bill, declared whipping to be one of the most effective deterrents to crime and that the superintendent of one institution told him that 10 lashes were equal to 40 years in prison, in the minds of criminals.

Sen. Sherman W. Child, Minneapolis, chairman of the committee, voted against the whipping bill as it is drawn now. Child said that he might favor flogging for third offenders in major crimes, but to apply the law to its letter would mean the loss of "from 75 to 100 years in our attitude toward criminal legislation."

A central bureau of identification, comprised of 12 persons, would be established under the committee bill, which provided that the bureau would gather reports of crime from sheriff and police from throughout the state.

Additional penalty is provided for persons possessing firearms while committing an act of violence, in another bill recommended by the committee.

SHOOTS MOTHER WHEN BARRED SEEING DAUGHTER

San Francisco, March 25.—(UP)—Mrs. Fred Klatt, 30, was killed and Mrs. Vernon Olson possibly fatally wounded here late yesterday by Roy Reaner, 30, when he was refused permission to see Mrs. Klatt's daughter, Genevieve, 15.

Reaner called at the women's apartment and asked to see the girl. Mrs. Klatt refused, whereupon, according to witnesses, the man pulled a revolver and started shooting. Mrs. Klatt was instantly killed.

Reaner fled in an automobile.

SKULL CRUSHED BY STICK FLUNG BY CIRCULAR SAW

Fergus Falls, Minn., March 25.—(UP)—His skull crushed by a stick of cordwood flung by a circular saw, George Sawyer, prominent young farmer, was dead at his home in Base township today. Sawyer was killed when the stick of cordwood was torn from his hands by the saw and hurled at his head.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN ALBANIA TODAY

Athens, March 25.—(UP)—Martial law has been declared in Albania because of a revolutionary movement against the government of President Ahmed Zogul, refugees arriving at the Greek frontier said today.

Twelve army classes were ordered mobilized, the refugees said.

Strained relations between Italy and Jugo-Slavia last week were caused by reports that Jugo-Slavia was mobilizing along the Albanian border and was fostering a revolt against the Zogul regime, which is friendly to Italy. Diplomatic pressure from major European nations apparently had prevented a serious flareup, but if actual revolution has broken out, the situation may become more tense again, observers believed.

ANTI FOREIGN FEELING FLAMES AT SHANGHAI

HATRED OF FOREIGN DEVILS IS GROWING TO DANGEROUS PROPORTIONS

MEAGER REPORTS FILTER IN FROM CITIES IN INTERIOR AND ALONG COAST

By H. FRANCIS MISSELWITZ (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Shanghai, March 25.—Fanned by outbreaks in Nanking, anti-foreign feeling flamed again here today, and meager reports from cities in the interior and along the southern coast indicated hatred of the "foreign devils" was growing to dangerous proportions.

The U. S. consul general broadcast a radio warning to all Americans in the danger area, advising them to evacuate at once. Two hundred and fifty U. S. missionaries were reported en route to Shanghai from Nanking.

Two women and one man were killed in Shanghai when guerrillas fired into the French concessions from the roof of a building.

Authentic reports of the situation in Nanking were lacking, but it was known many American and British citizens had been killed and wounded. Nationalists here charged that 2,000 Chinese had been killed in yesterday's bombardment by American and British warships, but that was believed exaggerated.

The nationalists also said looting in Nanking was done by irresponsible mobs and retreating northern soldiers, and not by southern troops.

Dr. J. S. Williams, Shawnee, O., vice president of Nanking University, was the only slain American officially identified. It was rumored that British Consul General Giles, wounded yesterday, had died. Another report said he was missing.

The U. S. destroyer Preston, conveying refugee ships to the mouth of the Yangtze, was fired on at Chinkiang and replied with four-pound guns, routing the attackers. No casualties were reported.

Brig. Gen. Smedley Butler arrived at Shanghai today and took command of the American marines.

American missions at Nanking were reported to have been looted. Six British marines were missing there, the Standard Oil Company learned from its Nanking offices, with which it was in hourly communication.

Standard Oil boats were fired on at Kiangyin Forts, it was reported. The entire Standard Oil staff at Nanking, including E. T. Hobart, D. C. Sims and an official named Green was safe.

A conference of admirals of foreign fleets anchored here instructed commanders of ships at Nanking to avoid further drastic action pending arrival of General Chiang Kai-Shek, Cantonese commander, who is due there Sunday.

Chiang had protested the bombardment of Nanking by British and American vessels. In a message sent through the Japanese consulate at Wuhu, he asked that foreigners cease using force, asserting that settlement of the situation must await his arrival.

Chiang said he believed the bombardment was unprovoked. The nationalists have no quarrel with foreigners, he added, concluding that he deplored the incident.

$10 PENALTY IF HE HAS NO GOOD EXCUSE

CLAIMS OF ILLNESS MUST BE ACCOMPANIED BY PHYSICIANS CERTIFICATE

SLACKERS TO BE SUMMONED INTO COURT, FALSE STATEMENTS PUNISHABLE

St. Paul, March 25.—(UP)—Every Minnesota voter who fails to cast his ballot, without good excuse, would be fined $10 under the provisions of a bill introduced in the state senate today.

Sen. E. L. MacLean, Minneapolis, presented the measure in the upper house which stipulates that "every person who is duly registered and entitled to vote, or who is entitled to register and vote, shall attend the polls and cast a ballot at every national, state and municipal election and the primaries thereof, or forfeit the sum of $10."

Excuses may be had upon the filing of a written statement explaining the reason to the clerk of the municipality within 72 hours after the election.

Claims of illness must be accompanied by a physician's certificate.

Clerk of the municipality is then required to certify a list of those who failed to vote, and who gave no adequate excuse, with the clerk of the county court. The clerk will then summon slackers into court for the levying of fines.

A false statement in connection with the law would be punishable by a fine of from $10 to $100.

Similar legislation is now pending in the Massachusetts legislature, according to Sen. MacLean.

Four heroes of the Indian wars in 1863 at Smith Lake, Rice county, would be honored by a monument erected by the state under a bill presented by Sen. J. E. Madigan, Maple Lake.

The bill calls for an appropriation of $750 which would be spent for the purchase of the site and the erection of the monument at Smith Lake in memory of four members of the Dustin family killed by Indians June 29, 1863.

SECRETARY MELLON TO VISIT HIS SICK DAUGHTER IN PARIS

Washington, March 25.—(UP)—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon announced today he is sailing on the Olympic for Europe to visit his daughter who is in Paris.

Mrs. David K. E. Bruce, daughter of the secretary, is in the American hospital in Paris recovering from an appendicitis operation.

Mellon, who was 72 years old yesterday, said he is taking a trip for an Easter holiday and a birthday celebration. He pointed out that it is customary for him to take a voyage to Bermuda each year at this time, but because of the illness of his daughter he has changed his plans to go to Europe.

Mellon said he would return the middle of April but he did not believe that Mrs. Bruce would come back to the United States with him. He said the trip was purely for pleasure.

HEAVY SNOW BLOCKS TRAFFIC NEAR MOORHEAD

Moorhead, Minn., March 25.—(UP)—Heavy snow today caused blocking of roads to traffic in this section of the state and difficulties in telegraph and telephone communication.

About 4 inches of snow blanketed this territory in a few hours this morning and the fall is continuing. The weather bureau reports similar conditions throughout the northern section of the state with no indications of a let-up.

Lewistown, Pa., March 25.—(UP)—Nine persons were injured, none seriously, when train Number 3, westbound on the Pennsylvania lines, crashed into a disabled engine on a siding at a tower near here late yesterday.

Lucas-Lohr

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Lohr of 303 Ninth street, Wahpeton, N. D., Wednesday, March 23, at 2 o'clock p. m. when their daughter, Miss Gladys was given in marriage to Dr. S. C. Lucas, of Minneapolis, Minn., in the presence of about thirty relatives and friends. Rev. Morris L. Eversz of this city officiated, using the ring ceremony. The couple were attended by the Rev. and Mrs. Martin R. Davis, pastor and wife, of the Methodist Episcopal church in Wahpeton.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Howard Paul sang appealingly, "O Promise Me" by R. DeKoven. During the strains of Lohengrin's bridal chorus played by Mrs. Fred Brown, the officiating minister entered followed by the groom and his attendant. The matron of honor preceded the bride who entered upon the arm of her father, John J. Lohr. Following the congratulations the bride's niece, Miss Jean Rowley, a former student of the Brainerd high school, played a violin solo "Romance in F" by Olaf Henriksen.

The bride was attired in queen blue silk crepe, trimmed with silver lace and wore a coronet of rhinestones and carried a bouquet of roses. The matron of honor, Mrs. Davis wore a gown of dark blue taffeta. The bride's travelling dress was tan moire silk. The home was decorated with pink and white wedding bells and roses.

A delicious luncheon was daintily served by the Misses Ila Moffet and Avis Pennington of Wahpeton and Miss Roberta Crawford and Miss Jennie Follstad of Brainerd.

Dr. and Mrs. Lucas will reside in Minneapolis for the present. The out of town guests were Rev. and Mrs. Claude Rowley and Mrs. Morris L. Eversz, of Brainerd, daughter Adele of Erhard, Minn., Mrs. J. PROGRESS OF THE BRAINERD BOYS' CONCERT BAND

By CARL ZAPPE, JR.
The trombone section of the Brainerd Boys' Concert band is upheld by two players: Howard Gile and Leo Muller, both, able musicians. The boys call it the Mutt and Jeff section of the band. Both boys have set an example that is worthy of comment. Leo is an original member while Howard joined more recently. Others have been in this section but have dropped out.

Although Howard has a paper route, distributing the Dispatch after school, he has a regular attendance record at all band meetings. He is 15 years old, is a Sophomore in high school and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gile, of 103 Juniper street.

Leo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Muller of 621 South Fifth street. He helps his father in the N. P. freight building and although he has work to do after supper he is always in regular attendance at rehearsals and concerts.

While we like to stress the necessity of regularity in attendance, the trombone player has other requirements to meet. The trombone is a splendid solo instrument. Its mellow tone brings quick reaction among the people in the audience while its lower ranges enables giving good support to the bass section of the band.

Different Lumber for Different Uses Get the Right Kind for Your Use

The man who has studied the subject of coal will very quickly tell you that some coals are immensely more valuable than others, even when they look alike, for the simple reason that some coals contain a greater amount of heat units than others. In the same way, the man who knows about lumber can very quickly explain to you why some lumbers are more valuable and more adaptable than other lumbers for certain uses, even though the average observer would never detect any difference between the two.

Not only is this true as between species of woods, but it is equally true as between grades of lumber of the same species of wood.

We know lumber. We know grades. And we are here to see that you get the necessary information and satisfactory service from the lumber that you buy—that what you get is properly adapted to the use to which you will put it so as to render you the greatest value and the greatest economy.

Different Lumber for Different Uses Get the Right Kind for Your Use

The man who has studied the subject of coal will very quickly tell you that some coals are immensely more valuable than others, even when they look alike, for the simple reason that some coals contain a greater amount of heat units than others. In the same way, the man who knows about lumber can very quickly explain to you why some lumbers are more valuable and more adaptable than other lumbers for certain uses, even though the average observer would never detect any difference between the two.

Not only is this true as between species of woods, but it is equally true as between grades of lumber of the same species of wood. We know lumber. We know grades. And we are here to see that you get the necessary information and satisfactory service from the lumber that you buy—that what you get is properly adapted to the use to which you will put it so as to render you the greatest value and the greatest economy.

Successfully Defended Tariff on Manganese Before Congress in 1919, 1920

Deerwood, Minn., March 25.

Numerous friends and business associates of Chas. W. Potts throughout the state, were shocked to learn of his death at Rochester, where he had gone last week to undergo a gall-stone operation. The operation was performed on Monday, and seemingly he emerged from the ordeal satisfactorily, but about 3 a. m. Tuesday he suffered a sinking spell which continued to the end, which occurred at 5:20 p. m.

In the passing of Chas. W. Potts, the mining industry in Minnesota suffers the loss of a man difficult to replace. Mr. Potts was interested in all mining problems and phases and became particularly prominent in relation to mining through his defense of a tariff on manganese before Congress in 1919 and 1920. He owned and managed the Potts Exploration Company, and with that organization did perhaps the most scientifically accurate exploration work ever done on the Cuyuna range.

He was a man of extensive property holdings and was at all times unafraid and anxious to go ahead and develop the numerous projects in which he was interested. One of his most successful operations was the showing up—through exploration work by his own organization—of a great amount of merchantable ore on the old Cuyuna Mille Laes property. This property is now called the 'Louise Mine' and is operated by the Manganiferous Iron Company.

Mr. Potts' funeral will be held at his home in Deerwood at 2:30 p. m., on Sunday, March 26.

Obituary

Charles W. Potts was born on March 26, 1877, at Kerwin, Phillips county, Kansas. He was the youngest son of Duncan M. and Orpha Potts, and at the time of his death his father, aged 98, and one sister, Mrs. S. D. Cole, of Portland, Oregon, were still living.

For the first seven years of his life Chas. W. Potts lived in or near Kerwin. Later his family moved to Washington, Kansas, and from there to Wymore, Nebraska, at which place, as a boy of 12, he entered the Wymore public schools.

During his early years the hardships and trials of the pioneer families of that date were common to Mr. Potts' family, and in consequence during these formative years he became imbued with a deep sense of the realities of life—which trait was with him all during his later life and which showed itself in the intense practicability of his nature.

Following his school life in Wymore, Mr. Potts did some teaching in a rural school in that part of the country and then, determining to have a university education, by his own efforts he proceeded to put himself through the University of Nebraska. Naturally enough, the outside work necessary to support himself took considerable of his time, but along with that work he found time to take a very active part in the university life. He was president of his class during his freshman year; a leader in several university movements during his sophomore year; was business manager of the university annual during his junior year; was active at all times in Y. M. C. A. work, and was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

In 1903 he graduated from the university, receiving the degrees of L. L. B. and A. B. He was not interested in the practice of law as an attorney, and accordingly removed to Solon Springs, Wis., where he became associated with the Land Department of the Northwestern railroad, and in the course of the next two years succeeded in marketing over 50,000 acres of railway land, thereby being to some extent instrumental in the settling of Douglas county, Wisconsin.

In 1904 he returned to Lincoln, Nebraska, where he was united in marriage with Marie A. Joers, and returning to Solon Springs, Wis., he continued with his land operations. To this union were born four children, all of whom are now living, and whose names and ages are as follows: Katherine, age 20; Ruth, 18; Charles William, age 16; and Lucille, age 14.

While connected with this land work for the Northwestern railroad, Mr. Potts became more and more interested in geology and mining, and as a sort of a vocation did more or less prospecting in Douglas county, Wis., his chief interest being in copper and iron.

In 1909 Mr. Potts came for the first time to the Cuyuna range in Minnesota, and while not actively associated with the iron industry at first, he spent the next two years in dealing in iron leases, prospecting and exploring. Determined now to give his full attention to mining and the iron industry, he removed his family from Solon Springs to Crosby Beach, Minnesota, in 1911, and then embarked in the drilling business under the style of "Potts Exploration Company." As owner and manager of the Potts Exploration Company he did a great amount of drilling over the entire Cuyuna Range during the next few years.

His work in exploration served to familiarize him thoroughly with the needs and resources of the Cuyuna Range; and brought him into contact with numerous mining companies, in many of which he became actively interested. For a number of years he was president and general manager of the Northern Minnesota Ore Company, and more recently, as lessor of the old Cuyuna Mille Laes property (now the Louise mine) he did exploration work which resulted in the discovery of a large body of merchantable ore. Practically all of the operating, as well as the non-operating, properties of the Cuyuna Range were at some time investigated by Mr. Potts, and at the time of his death it is doubtful if any other man or mining company possessed more data and information relative to the range than did Mr. Potts.

All during the war Mr. Potts rendered service to the government and to the cause of the allies in every way possible, not only acting as a minute man in the matter of selling Liberty Bonds, but in the very substantial way of doing the things that he could to increase the production of the manganese which was so badly needed.

At the close of the war, Mr. Potts was called to Washington, D. C., where he spent the next three or four years in charge of the fight being made before Congress for a tariff on Manganese to protect American producers. In the face of most unequal odds he succeeded in getting the tariff passed, and it has been conceded by those informed that to Mr. Potts, more than any other person, belongs the credit for that tariff. During this space of time, too, he entered the lists as the champion of those companies entitled to War Minerals Relief, and successfully prosecuted their claims before the Senate committee and the House of Representatives. At this stage of Mr. Potts' career he was known in Washington, D. C., as the best-posted man in America on Manganese and the tariff; and was for a time vice-president of the American Mining Congress.

These three of four years of labor in Washington, D. C., however, entailing as they did such continuous and unrelenting work on the part of Mr. Potts, exacted their toll in regard to his health. His health commenced to fail him at the close of his campaign, but, as was his custom, he paid but little attention to his physical ailments, and returned home where he plunged himself into work on several mining properties—all of which had for their ultimate end the development of the Cuyuna range. He was also very much interested in agriculture, and along with his other aims had in mind developing a model farm in Crow Wing county. To that end he acquired a large acreage of land near Rabbit Lake and had laid out plans for its development.

However, Man proposes and God disposes, and because of that fact, Charles W. Potts was not fated to live his life out to the fulfillment of all of his plans. His health broke down completely for a time in 1923, and from that time until his death—while never giving up his interest in life, nor relinquishing command of his activities—he was ailing from physical troubles. He spent much time in hospitals, and finally, after the second of two major operations, he passed away his life at Rochester, Minn., at 5:20 p. m., March 22, 1927, aged 49 years, 11 months, and 27 days.

To those who knew him, Charles W. Potts was an idealist, but at the same time, not merely a dreamer of dreams, but a doer of deeds. He lived life in an intense active way, finding time for numerous cultural, commercial, and educational activities that would not have been possible to one of lesser mental and physical activity. All of his activities were constructive ones, and as such of benefit to his family, his community, and his state. He was one who as nearly as possible lived up to his ideals, doing always exactly as he said he would. He was expert in business matters, having the faculty of giving all matters their relative proper attention; and of following out a line of thought to its uttermost conclusion, and then following out that line of thought with effective action. He did not live to see man's allotted four score and ten years, but while he lived—he lived, and he did things. And because he was such a man, now that he is gone, we cannot but miss him.

NEW RETAIL CONDITIONS

The multiplication of chain stores and installment houses has forced both mail order houses and department stores to observe a new situation and plan to meet it. Mail order houses are opening big retail stores in the larger cities, and department stores are getting together to form a gigantic chain system of chains within chains that threaten to absorb a considerable proportion of the manufacturing industry.

The difficulty of the mail order house is competing with the chain store, the credit house and the department store is evident from the increasing tendency of the former to buy factories and control their own commodities. The department store will be forced to the same measures.

The increase of good roads and automobiles have had much to do with diminishing the number of catalogue patrons from the rural districts. Saving a few cents does not seem so important to many as getting what they want when they want it and using it while they are paying for it. They can run to town in a short time and see what they are buying. Easy credit extension has also operated in the same way.

Between these three factors the small single line dealer stands a very poor chance for existence because the retail trade is on the way to becoming a vast system of distribution from a few big centers.

If our cities and towns are to continue prosperous, the people will have to support their merchants. Home merchants, however, must not depend upon local pride and patriotism. They will have to meet the new conditions and convince their clients that they are able to give as good value for as fair a price as any of the outside combinations. They can do so. In one New York county all grocery dealers have combined, selected a purchasing committee and propose to cut delivery and credit charges in an effort to stave off the inevitable. It is a fight for existence, and incidentally a fight that every property owner is directly interested in.—Staples World.

THE WAR IN CHINA

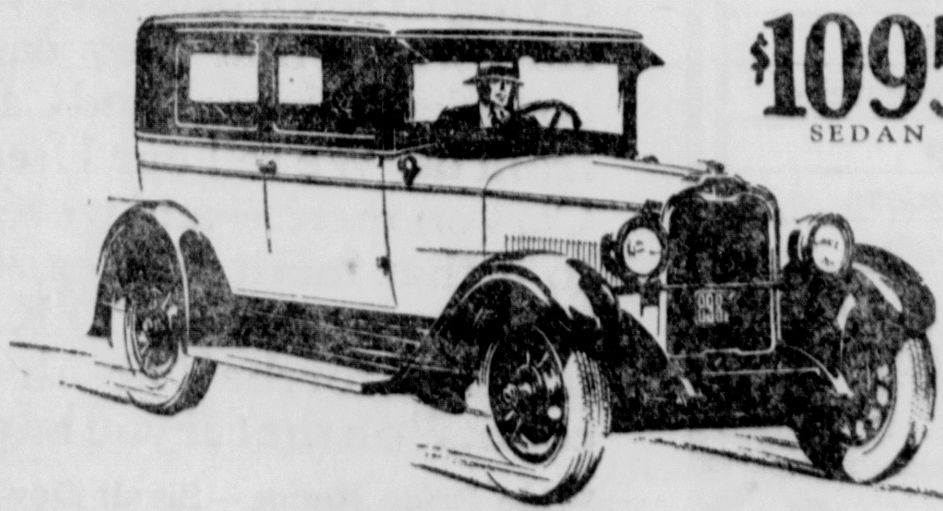

In spite of all subterfuge, the United States is in a war in China. In spite of letters previously published, and the Brainerd Dispatch carried one too, that the situation was overdrawn by sensational news reports, the anti-foreign feeling in China is growing.

Attacks by the Allies will serve to cement the Chinese forces engaged in civil war and they will center their attention on the foreigners. That Americans have been killed or wounded is an established fact. With China in the throes of its own civil war, a near approach to chaos must rule in some sections where armies and irregulars are engaged and where foreigners, if established in interior communities, cannot fail to feel the brunt of battle.

To our notion issuing orders to various Chinese commanders to guarantee the safety of various nationals can have little effect if the Chinese commanders cannot even control their own armies.

THE Brainerd Dispatch says soon the streets of that enterprising city will "be black with tourists." Down this way the tourists are bedecked with all the colors of the rainbow, and then some. It is sometimes necessary to throw a cloud over the sun to tone down the brilliance of the adornment to relieve the eye strain of the natives.—St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press.

TARAHUMARA INDIANS 82 MILE MARATHON

POUND BAREFOOT TODAY OVER THE TEXAS COURSE

FIRST RECOGNIZED ATTEMPT TO SHATTER RECORD MADE
45 YEARS AGO

RUNNERS EXPECT TO REACH U.
OF T. STADIUM, WHERE RELAY
GAMES ARE HELD

San Antonio, Texas, March 25.—(UP)—Pounding barefoot over 82 miles of concrete, gravel and pasture three Tarahumara Indians today will leave here in the first recognized attempt to shatter the 82-mile record in 45 years.

Solemnly going through ritualistic ceremonies in preparation for today's run, the three Indians last night announced themselves in best possible condition for the race. Incantations were said and "good luck omens" were eagerly sought by the three as they anointed their bodies with a herb tea.

The three, Thomas Zafiro, 38, Jose Torres, 24, and Augustin Salado, will leave here this morning, bells attached to their belts jingling a merry accompaniment to the solid pat of their bare feet on the pavement. They expect to reach the University of Texas stadium in Austin some time late today.

The Texas relay games are being held in Austin today and it is the aim of the Indians to reach the finish line while the games are in progress. They hope to reach their goal in twelve or fourteen hours.

Zafiro is believed to hold the world's record 100-kilometer record with a time for the distance of eight hours and 35 minutes. His time is, however, unofficial. Torres is called the Latin-American 5,000 meter champion. The two have met time and again in various meets in this section.

Their rivalry, while friendly, is spirited and based to a great extent on an ancient and more fierce rivalry between two Indian villages. The race today will be in the nature of a tradition.

Splash About Southern Open Golf Tournament

Atlanta, Ga., March 25.—(UP)—Emmett French of Youngstown, Ohio, and Southern Pines, N. C., seemed the most at home of any of the 150 who splashed about the course here yesterday amid rain and hail to open the southern open golf tournament.

French's 71, one over the tournament par, was one better than the accomplishment of Larry Nabholz, another Ohioan who finished the course with a 72.

Bobby Jones, native son of Georgia, and Gene Sarazen, not so accustomed to the deluge which made the first day's play difficult and uninteresting, nevertheless tied Nabholz with cards of 72 each.

Sixty-five others came in with scores of less than 80 while the rest of the field retired early last night and prayed for sunnier skies today when the second eighteen holes will be played.

Ormond Beach, Fla., March 25.—(UP)—William T. Tilden's campaign to regain his prestige as America's first ranking tennis player suffered another severe jolt yesterday when he fell before the brilliant strokes of George Lott, Jr., Chicago.

Minneapolis, March 25.—(UP)—Faribault, Appleton, Excelsior and Minneapolis South emerged victorious today from the first round of play in the Minnesota high school basketball tournament at Kenwood Armory.

Faribault buried Moorhead, 39 to 16. Appleton smothered Albert Lea, 33 to 17. Excelsior downed Bagley, 27 to 10, and Minneapolis South bilked New Ulm, 23 to 13.

Semi-finals and consolation will be played late today in which Faribault and South, considered the class of the field, are paired for one game while Excelsior and Appleton will fight for leadership in the other semi-final.

Consolations will bring together Albert Lea-Bagley, Moorhead-New Ulm.

Captain Hildebrandt and Fay Buterwick, Faribault aces, gave the prettiest performance of basketball seen on the Armory floor. Hildebrandt, recently ill, chalked up 14 points for the Fairies, while his mate added 12. Moorhead battled the southern quint on even terms in the first half of the game but the Fairies would not be denied a victory and piled up an impressive lead in the final half of the game.

Bagley, the Iron range delegate, apparently had an off day, when the boys could not find the basket. Time after time the boys from the Mesaba range banged at the net from short range only to have the ball bound a little too far or not quite far enough.

Dopesters are already naming Faribault or South to wear the 1927 crown.

2 AMERICAN SURVIVORS TO MEET FRENCH

ONE PAIR OUT OF 100 ASPIRANTS
TO UPHOLD FADING AMERICAN TENNIS PRESTIGE

HUNTER AND VAN RYN TO MEET
FRENCH ACES, BOROTRA
AND BRUGNON

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 25.—(UP)—After almost a week of attempts to find an adequate defense of American tennis against another formidable French invasion, one pair out of one hundred American aspirants survived today in the National Indoor Championship tournament.

The two survivors that will meet the French stars in the semi-final round this afternoon is not the pair that was delegated unofficially last week to battle for the fading prestige of the American game.

Until late afternoon yesterday it was an odds-on bet that Dr. George King and Francis T. Hunter would battle in the semi-final rounds against the French aces, Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon.

But when the quarter-final round had ended, Hunter and young Jack

Van Ryn, a Princeton college boy, were the survivors.

The greatest surprise was in the match between Dr. King and Van Ryn, which Van Ryn won, 10-8, 6-2.

Van Ryn went into the semi-finals as the opponent of Brugnon, who had been extended to beat Louis B. Dailey, 6-3, 6-4.

Hunter entered the lower half of the semi-finals against Borotra when he romped through a love match against J. A. McHollan, gray-haired Elizabeth veteran.

The defeat of Dr. King made it appear that there might be two Frenchmen in the final round fight-nig for another American cup.

Playing the game that he did against Dr. King, Van Ryn would have more than an even chance to beat Brugnon but he is young and rather inexperienced, and his perfection yesterday may have been the result of one of those inspired days that come to college boys.

In the lower half, Borotra has to be made the favorite over Hunter because he is more consistent.

Harrisburg, Pa.—Davey Adelman, Philadelphia flyweight, won from Frankie Gallagher, New York, on a foul in the fourth round.

Why we sell the DUNLOP TIRE

FOR 39 YEARS Dunlop has been building the world's extreme tire. Dunlops wear longer because Dunlop knows how to build better at each vital point.

Take the hidden carcass beneath the tread. Dunlop owns its own cotton mills for no other purpose than to spin the best long-fibre cotton into the famous cable-twist cord that goes into this carcass.

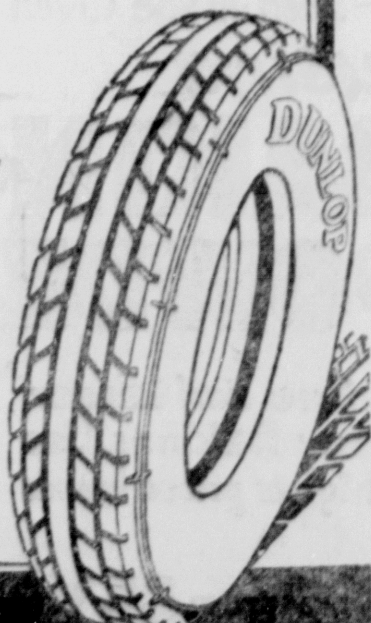

The extra strength in these cords means an added factor of safety against constant load and pounding of roads—longer life and greater mileage.

The extra "stretch" enables the carcass to give under severe blows, and to come back into its original position without internal injury.

The Dunlop tread—the toughest rubber development known—wears slowly and smoothly, making sure that you get out of your Dunlops, all the extra mileage that added care and longer experience have built into them. We recommend that you put Dunlops on your car.

TARAHUMARA INDIANS 82 MILE MARATHON

POUND BAREFOOT TODAY OVER THE TEXAS COURSE

FIRST RECOGNIZED ATTEMPT TO SHATTER RECORD MADE 45 YEARS AGO

RUNNERS EXPECT TO REACH U. OF T. STADIUM, WHERE RELAY GAMES ARE HELD

San Antonio, Texas, March 25.—(UP)—Pounding barefoot over 82 miles of concrete, gravel and pasture three Tarahumara Indians today will leave here in the first recognized attempt to shatter the 82-mile record in 45 years.

Solemnly going through ritualistic ceremonies in preparation for today's run, the three Indians last night announced themselves in best possible condition for the race. Incantations were said and "good luck omens" were eagerly sought by the three as they anointed their bodies with an herb tea.

The three, Thomas Zafiro, 38, Jose Torres, 24, and Augustin Salado, will leave here this morning, bells attached to their belts jingling a merry accompaniment to the solid pat of their bare feet on the pavement. They expect to reach the University of Texas stadium in Austin some time late today.

The Texas relay games are being held in Austin today and it is the aim of the Indians to reach the finish line while the games are in progress. They hope to reach their goal in twelve or fourteen hours.

Zafiro is believed to hold the world's record 100-kilometer record with a time for the distance of eight hours and 35 minutes. His time is, however, unofficial. Torres is called the Latin-American 5,000 meter champion. The two have met time and again in various meets in this section.

Their rivalry, while friendly, is spirited and based to a great extent on an ancient and more fierce rivalry between two Indian villages. The race today will be in the nature of a tradition.

BROTHER THINKS PREVIOUS ATTEMPT MADE ON SNYDER

GEORGE B. SNYDER SAYS SLAIN
ART EDITOR WAS NEARLY
ASPHYXIATED

WIDOW AND ERSTWHILE SWEET-
HEART NOW TRYING TO SHIFT BLAME

New York, March 25. — (UP)—Possibility that an attempt was made a month ago to asphyxiate Albert Snyder, slain art editor, was suggested today by his brother, George B. Snyder.

The brother said that Mrs. Ruth Snyder, who, with Henry Judd Gray, has been indicted for her husband's murder, had left their Queens village home while Snyder was taking a nap. When she returned she found the art editor in the backyard gasping for breath.

"O, I thought you were sleeping," George Snyder today quoted his sister-in-law as saying to her husband. He told her he had roused himself from the lounge when almost overcome by gas. A tube from the gas stove was disconnected.

"I must have kicked it off accidentally," Mrs. Snyder said, as related by George Snyder.

New York, March 25. — (UP)—With scarcely more than two weeks left before they are scheduled to face trial on charges of murdering Albert Snyder, his widow, Mrs. Ruth Snyder, and her erstwhile sweetheart, Henry Judd Gray, today continued their apparent efforts each to shift the blame to the other, while their attorneys prepared widely differing defenses.

The prosecution regarded its case as strengthened by discovery in the Snyder home yesterday of a quart of whiskey in which had been dissolved a large quantity of mercury bichloride. A spoonful of the drink would have been fatal, investigators said, charging Gray and Mrs. Snyder had hoped to kill Snyder with the solution.

Although attorneys for both Mrs. Snyder and Gray refused to discuss their plans, it was apparent the woman's defense would be that Gray alone had committed the crime, while Gray would contend that he, a victim of dual personality, aided in the slaying under Mrs. Snyder's influence.

Interviews granted by Mrs. Snyder indicated the mother angle would not be overlooked when she faces a jury. She wept for her daughter, Lorraine, and said her only desire for the future was to keep the child from knowing her mother had been accused. She also appealed to "every mother, every daughter and every wife" to withhold judgement of her until she presents her case in court.

It was reported that Mrs. Snyder and Gray had borrowed money to pay a premium on Snyder's $52,000 insurance policy a few days before the slaying, in an attempt to insure payment of the money after Snyder's death.

"A Kiss in a Taxi" Bebe Daniels' Best

Few comedies have come to the screen during the past twelve months that can compare in plot interest or swiftness with "A Kiss in a Taxi," Bebe Daniels' new Paramount starring picture, now showing at the Lyceum theatre.

In it, the vivacious comedienne plays Ginette, bewitching waitress of the Parisian Montmartre. All patrons seek to kiss her but she is untouchable, answering each advance with a fresh shower of glassware. Chester Conklin, Maraval, treasurer of the Artists' Society, has one of the best opportunities of his long mustached career.

HEDDA HOYT TELLS ABOUT JEWELRY

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, March 24.—(UP)—The mirror ring, which was recently launched in London, is already being made up by American jewelers and before long we may dispense with the tiny handbag mirror. Instead of a ring stone, a tiny round mirror is used as the ring set. The mirror is made to reflect the entire face of the wearer. Costume rings with large semi-precious stones have long been popular and the mirror ring, being no larger than the average costume ring, will create no undue disturbance.

As a rule Summer calls for white jewelry. This year, however, light pink jewelry is preferred above white effects. Pink tourmaline and rose quartz are the loveliest of the pale pink semi-precious stones. Real tourmaline is a bit more costly than rose quartz although the two are often assumed to be the same thing. At present, carved bead chokers of rose quartz with large carved center stone to which the clasp is attached are the most popular type of chokers. Rings set with rose quartz and bracelets made of rose quartz beads are also to be found. Next in preference to pink rose quartz jewelry are chok-ers and chains of solid amethyst beads.

Coolie coats, designed for wear as negligees or lounging robes, are to be important factors in Summer wardrobes. They are made of chalis, either domestic or imported, and follow the straight lines of the Japanese coolie coat with its wide kimono sleeves. As a rule the coolie coat extends only to the knees. Colorful round medallions are placed at the back between the shoulders and the sleeves are faced in color. Some of the American-made models are made of heavy black satin embroidered in colors and trimmed in gold piping. For beach wear over bathing suits, models of black or navy cotton with white and red medallions at the rear are both effective and inexpensive.

ABOUT EVENING GOWNS

New York, March 25. — (UP)—Satin dinner gowns in beige-pink and honey tones, without trimming other than self-fabric manipulation are among the smartest of the newer semi-formal gowns. One sees them at the smart hotels in numbers.

Lace is still important both as an entire dress fabric and as trimming on chiffon or georgette gowns of afternoon or evening type. Beige and rose-beige shades are especially smart at present.

used on numerous afternoon and evening gowns. Tier arrangement on skirts have tiers shading from pale to deeper tones as they near the hemline. This shaded tier effect, is confined mostly to evening models. Afternoon models use various less defined ways of introducing the two-tone effect.

One of the most unusual afternoon gowns shown thus far this season is made of wide black patent ribbon combined with black patent lace sleeves. Patent lace is one of the new materials of the season.

An interesting evening gown is made entirely of citron colored silk faille ribbon. The ribbon is of eight-inch width and is sewn together so as to run horizontally about the figure. The bodice of this frock is long waisted and finished with a single flounce which forms the skirt. A cluster of large citron-hued velvet roses forms the corsage which is posed on the left hip.

Printed frocks or frocks combining solid colored materials with printed fabrics look very smart when trimmed with a shoulder corsage made of the printed material. Long round rose leaf petals with unfinished edges are used to form flowers of huge dimensions.

Numbers of turquoise blue evening gowns are seen at all smart occasions these days. These are more often seen in bouffant taffeta gowns than in beaded chiffon models.

BROTHER THINKS PREVIOUS ATTEMPT MADE ON SNYDER

GEORGE B. SNYDER SAYS SLAIN
ART EDITOR WAS NEARLY
ASPHYXIATED

WIDOW AND ERSTWHILE SWEET-
HEART NOW TRYING TO SHIFT BLAME

New York, March 25. — (UP)—Possibility that an attempt was made a month ago to asphyxiate Albert Snyder, slain art editor, was suggested today by his brother, George B. Snyder.

The brother said that Mrs. Ruth Snyder, who, with Henry Judd Gray, has been indicted for her husband's murder, had left their Queens village home while Snyder was taking a nap. When she returned she found the art editor in the backyard gasping for breath.

"O, I thought you were sleeping," George Snyder today quoted his sister-in-law as saying to her husband.

He told her he had roused himself from the lounge when almost overcome by gas. A tube from the gas stove was disconnected.

"I must have kicked it off accidentally," Mrs. Snyder said, as related by George Snyder.

New York, March 25. — (UP)—With scarcely more than two weeks left before they are scheduled to face trial on charges of murdering Albert Snyder, his widow, Mrs. Ruth Snyder, and her erstwhile sweetheart, Henry Judd Gray, today continued their apparent efforts each to shift the blame to the other, while their attorneys prepared widely differing defenses.

The prosecution regarded its case as strengthened by discovery in the Snyder home yesterday of a quart of whiskey in which had been dissolved a large quantity of mercury bichloride. A spoonful of the drink would have been fatal, investigators said, charging Gray and Mrs. Snyder had hoped to kill Snyder with the solution.

Although attorneys for both Mrs. Snyder and Gray refused to discuss their plans, it was apparent the woman's defense would be that Gray alone had committed the crime, while Gray would contend that he, a victim of dual personality, aided in the slaying under Mrs. Snyder's influence.

Interviews granted by Mrs. Snyder indicated the mother angle would not be overlooked when she faces a jury. She wept for her daughter, Lorraine, and said her only desire for the future was to keep the child from knowing her mother had been accused. She also appealed to "every mother, every daughter and every wife" to withhold judgement of her until she presents her case in court.

It was reported that Mrs. Snyder and Gray had borrowed money to pay a premium on Snyder's $52,000 insurance policy a few days before the slaying, in an attempt to insure payment of the money after Snyder's death.

"A Kiss in a Taxi" Bebe Daniels' Best

Few comedies have come to the screen during the past twelve months that can compare in plot interest or swiftness with "A Kiss in a Taxi," Bebe Daniels' new Paramount starring picture, now showing at the Lyceum theatre.

In it, the vivacious comedienne plays Ginette, bewitching waitress of the Parisian Montmartre. All patrons seek to kiss her but she is untouchable, answering each advance with a fresh shower of glassware. Chester Conklin, Maraval, treasurer of the Artists' Society, has one of the best opportunities of his long mustached career.

"The Speeding Venus" Thrilling

Dale Fuller, a cautious old maid, and Priscilla Dean as a reckless cross country auto racer, furnish most of the thrills and laughs in Metropolitan's "The Speeding Venus," which will be on view at the Lyceum theatre Saturday. Robert Frazer and Dale Fuller head a competent supporting cast.

ST. PAUL MAN COMMITTS SUICIDE

St. Paul, March 25. — (UP)—Patrick Connolly, middle-aged father of two grown children, committed suicide by shooting here today.

Mrs. Connolly rushed into the room at the sound of trigger clicks as two cartridges failed to fire, and reached her husband just as the third exploded.

Financial troubles were said to have motivated the act.

CONCERNING NEXT MOVES FAM-

LEGAL CHECKERBOARD

Los Angeles, March 25. — (UP)—Attorneys for Charlie Chaplin and his estranged wife, Lita Grey Chaplin, were secretive today concerning the next moves the famous pair will make on the legal checkerboard.

Today was the last day for Mrs. Chaplin to file her amended divorce complaint. Her attorneys announced that instead of filing it "some other action" would be taken to place the issue directly up to the film clowns. They declined to divulge the nature of the "other action."

Meanwhile Lloyd Wright, Chaplin's Los Angeles attorney, left here for New York. He admitted he was going to confer with the comedian on developments of Mrs. Chaplin's suit but denied the meeting would lead to a settlement.

HEDDA HOYT TELLS ABOUT JEWELRY

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, March 24. — (UP)—The mirror ring, which was recently launched in London, is already being made up by American jewelers and before long we may dispense with the tiny handbag mirror. Instead of a ring stone, a tiny round mirror is used as the ring set. The mirror is made to reflect the entire face of the wearer. Costume rings with large semi-precious stones have long been popular and the mirror ring, being no larger than the average costume ring, will create no undue disturbance.

As a rule Summer calls for white jewelry. This year, however, light pink jewelry is preferred above white effects. Pink tourmaline and rose quartz are the loveliest of the pale pink semi-precious stones. Real tourmaline is a bit more costly than rose quartz although the two are often assumed to be the same thing. At present, carved bead chokers of rose quartz with large carved center stone to which the clasp is attached are the most popular type of chokers. Rings set with rose quartz and bracelets made of rose quartz beads are also to be found. Next in preference to pink rose quartz jewelry are chok-ers and chains of solid amethyst beads.

Coolie coats, designed for wear as negligees or lounging robes, are to be important factors in Summer wardrobes. They are made of chalis, either domestic or imported, and follow the straight lines of the Japanese coolie coat with its wide kimono sleeves. As a rule the coolie coat extends only to the knees. Colorful round medallions are placed at the back between the shoulders and the sleeves are faced in color. Some of the American-made models are made of heavy black satin embroidered in colors and trimmed in gold piping. For beach wear over bathing suits, models of black or navy cotton with white and red medallions at the rear are both effective and inexpensive.

ABOUT EVENING GOWNS

New York, March 25. — (UP)—Satin dinner gowns in beige-pink and honey tones, without trimming other than self-fabric manipulation are among the smartest of the newer semi-formal gowns. One sees them at the smart hotels in numbers.

Lace is still important both as an entire dress fabric and as trimming on chiffon or georgette gowns of afternoon or evening type. Beige and rose-beige shades are especially smart at present.

Two-shades of the same color are used on numerous afternoon and evening gowns. Tier arrangement on skirts have tiers shading from pale to deeper tones as they near the hem line. This shaded tier effect, is confined mostly to evening models. Afternoon models use various less defined ways of introducing the two-tone effect.

One of the most unusual afternoon gowns shown thus far this season is made of wide black patent ribbon combined with black patent lace sleeves. Patent lace is one of the new materials of the season.

An interesting evening gown is

BEN HUR DRAWS PACKED HOUSE

Every Seat Taken at Park Theatre Last Evening at Only Showing

GORGEOUS SETTINGS FEATURE

Photoplay Lauded as Greatest Movie Production Ever Presented

Critics and theatregoers in large cities where "Ben-Hur" is now leading current movie productions for its sheer supremacy in splendor, effectiveness of coloring and gorgeous setting and mammoth proportions, are lauding the picture as the greatest dramatization ever presented on the screen.

The photoplay was shown last evening at the Park theatre to a packed assemblage of Brainerd theatregoers, who with thousands others, marvelled at its reatness.

The chariot race stands out as the greatest feature of the picture but interwoven throughout the entire showing are thrilling episodes of history and christian characterizations which are superb in every detail.

The photoplay is one to satisfy the most blasé of theatre attendants. The music in connection tends to create an even higher standardization.

BEN HUR DRAWS PACKED HOUSE

Every Seat Taken at Park Theatre Last Evening at Only Showing

GORGEOUS SETTINGS FEATURE

Photoplay Lauded as Greatest Movie Production Ever Presented

Critics and theatregoers in large cities where "Ben-Hur" is now leading current movie productions for its sheer supremacy in splendor, effectiveness of coloring and gorgeous setting and mammoth proportions, are lauding the picture as the greatest dramatization ever presented on the screen.

The photoplay was shown last evening at the Park theatre to a packed assemblage of Brainerd theatregoers, who with thousands others, marvelled at its greatness.

The chariot race stands out as the greatest feature of the picture but interwoven throughout the entire showing are thrilling episodes of history and christian characterizations which are superb in every detail.

The photoplay is one to satisfy the most blasé of theatre attendants. The music in connection tends to create an even higher standardization.

Matinee Ladies

BY
William B. Courtney

"MATINEE LADIES," with May McAvoy, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Ward, college student, works as a dancing partner for rich women in a New Jersey roadhouse. There he meets the prettiest, sweetest girl he has ever laid eyes on—Sally, the cigarette girl. Reciprocating his interest, she warns him against the mysterious and beautiful Mrs. Hammond, habitué of the Inn, who finds her "thrill" in "hunting" Bob for her loveliest apartment. Mrs. Hammond tells Bob she is an authoress, secretly in search of color; and offers him the free use of her studio, apparently with innocent motives.

Bob was quite overcome by the munificence of Mrs. Hammond's offer. It was, in fact, too munificent.

"How could I ever save up enough to pay you back, Della? Why, it must cost you a small fortune to maintain that apartment."

"Oh, we'll pro rate the cost, on some fair basis. After all, it's my workroom. It's merely being loaned to you. And the cost isn't so awfully much. There's only a bedroom, bath, living room, dinette and kitchenette. Your meals will be served by the maid, brought up from a central kitchen. What do you say, Bob? Like to run over now and have a look at it?"

Bob hesitated a long, long minute. He felt Mrs. Hammond's eyes studying him, and after their conversation he was ashamed to appear dubious; but, also, somewhere in the back of his mind he felt another pair of eyes upon him. The starry eyes of little Sally Smith. Caught between two pairs of eyes; that was it!

"You know, Sally Smith, I'm awfully fond of you."

Still, if he felt that Mrs. Hammond's offer was morally legitimate, strictly businesslike, purely philanthropic, why should the phrase "caught between two pairs of eyes" leap into his mind? There should be no conflict between these two women in his life. What each meant to him, was doing for him, would benefit the other, Mrs. Hammond's philanthropy would insure his future success and prosperity, and thus aid his love for Sally, and Sally's love for him.

There was only one thing to do before he could with safety and honor accept Mrs. Hammond's proposition. He must go to Sally, acquaint her with the offer, and convince her of Mrs. Hammond's purely friendly motives. He must get Sally's tacit approval, and in getting it, win Sally's trust and faith in Mrs. Hammond.

Bob abruptly faced Mrs. Hammond, and declared:

"It's bulky of you, Della. I still don't understand why you should single me out for your generosity, for your wonderful counsel and aid; but I do appreciate it, deeply. I may be able to repay the money debt, but I can never repay the deed."

"You will accept, then, Bob, and move in, and make yourself at home!" eagerly.

"I—I think I will. But I want just a little more time to think it over. There are so many things to be considered, you know, Della." He hesitated, uncertain in his guilelessness whether or not he ought to be completely frank. He decided that he would; and continued:

"I want to tell Sally Smith about your goodness. I want her to understand that I'm going to be doing her as much of a service as you are doing me. I want—to get her approval."

Mrs. Hammond set her perfect body back into the perfect pillows of her perfect car again. Only this time she was not perfectly happy. This time her beautiful body was not relaxed—but taut as a harp string, and quivering as such a string might, under the lashing of a passionate storm. Yet, her eternally inscrutable smile masked the sting of her defeat. Of victory suddenly turned to defeat!

CHAPTER XIV

Meanwhile, the skeins of the elaborate net that Mrs. Hammond was weaving around Bob, had reached into the gentle life of Sally Smith, and were tangling her combed-honey hair, her slender legs, all unbeknown to her. For Sally was such a precious little gosling, and Mrs. Hammond and Madame Leonine and Mazie Revere were such ravenous hawks!

In her implacable hunt to win the physical love of Bob Ward, Mrs. Hammond had recognized that the bond of affection and attachment growing up so swiftly between Bob and little Sally Smith was going to prove an insurmountable barrier presently, unless she quickly found a way to breach it. Having at her disposal the influence, the wealth, the time to prepare exhaustive plans and to secure the best aid, she had reached right down into little Sally's private life and personal affairs.

In ways best known to herself, she had investigated enough to know the conditions of Sally's home, and to learn about Tom Mannion. Again, in ways best known to herself, but more apparent, she seen to it that Tom Mannion became known to Mazie Revere.

Enlisting the aid of Madame Leonine and Mazie Revere, who of course had their own reasons for pandering to every little whim of Mrs. Hammond's, the wealthy huntress of men inserted the barbed tip of her first wedge between Sally and Bob. The event of the afternoon, in which Madame Leonine had despatched Sally to Mazie Revere's with a message, was the beginning.

Sally had gone without delay to Mazie's home, in the mid-fifties on the east side of Madison Avenue, and had primly delivered her message—an innocuous verbal communication.

Mazie, affecting a grown-up concern in Sally, had cordially invited her in to rest. Sally protested at first, because she was anxious to get home and dispose of her evening chores early, so that she could get a good night's sleep and be fresh and bright for the picnic with Bob on the morrow.

Mazie won her over to a brief visit by offering to show her through the apartment. Woman-like, Sally was anxious to see the place. She knew that Mazie had a lot of money, and that she coined it from many and diverse gentlemen friends in the process commonly known around the Palisado Inn as "gold-digging."

Sally, however, was hardly prepared for the revelation of ornate grandeur that followed. The place was simply palatial—in little Sally Smith's eyes, trained, as they were, to the modest things of a pinched home. Endless corridors and rooms, a roof garden, gorgeous draperies. It was just like Sally had seen in vampire moving pictures. She was not thrilled half so much as overwhelmed.

But if feminine curiosity had been responsible for Sally's brief stay, something more tangible and startling gave her further pause.

When they had sat down for a minute in the great living room, before the open hearth, where Mazie insisted upon installing Sally in the biggest and softest chair, Mazie propped herself on the arm beside her, put a friendly hand on Sally's slim shoulder and smiled gaily.

"You know, Sally Smith, I'm awfully fond of you, even though I get a bit impatient with you at times because you pass up opportunities that I'd grab in a minute. Not that I don't admire you for your judgment, of course, kid, for I do. But that ain't what I want to talk about. The fact is, dearie, I've a surprise for you—"

Sally looked up, utterly bewildered.

"Yes," smiled Mazie, "I know you'll be pleased. I'm going to throw a house party here tonight, and I want you to come as my special guest."

"Oh!" gasped Sally, which meant neither yes nor no, nor anything; and Mazie gave her no chance to recover and become definite, but continued, talking rapidly and ingratiatingly.

"Fact is, too, honey, that I know how shy you are, and so that you won't feel alone and strange with so many new faces, I've asked a friend of yours to come along, to escort you. Tom Mannion!"

"Mr. Mannion! Mazie, how in the world did you get to know Tom Mannion, or that he knew me?" Mazie chuckled. "Oh, don't worry now about his morals, dearie. He ain't one of the kind that I or my girl friends play for a sucker. Tom's all right. He's a nice clean fellow, with a mighty big future ahead of him in this man's burg."

RAIN AND SLEET IN THE UPPER MISSISSIPPI AREA

ADD TO FURTHER DIFFICULTIES TO THE ALREADY FLOODED RIVER

WINONA HARASSED BY HIGH WATER FOR PAST FORTNIGHT

St. Paul, Minn., March 25.—(UP)—Rain and sleet in the upper Mississippi valley today added further difficulties to the already flooded river.

Winona, harassed by high water for the past fortnight, was destined to still worse conditions as government gauges recorded 11.5 feet of water there and today's burden still awaited.

Battering currents have rushed over the levee there for the past week washing the lower sections of the town and creeping higher and higher into the business district.

Railroad tracks in the down river town were weakened by the flood waters as were tracks on the Wisconsin side.

Hastings today reported the river to be falling although the load brought by the sleet today had not yet arrived there.

YOUNG MILL WORKER IS VICTIM OF LANDRY'S DISEASE

Fall River, Mass., March 25.—(UP)—Artificial respiration methods such as those employed in the case of Alfred Frick of Chicago have not yet been resorted to in the battle to save the life of Gil Estrella, 22-year-old mill-worker and victim of Landry's disease.

Estrella's name today remained on the danger list at Union hospital, to which he was taken Monday.

Because the creeping paralysis had not yet affected the patient's respiration, the 150 members of the Paramount Swimming club who yesterday volunteered their services, had not been called upon.

Lawyers representing the cult also will make the trip, which will cover nearly 5,000 miles.

First the attorneys will go to Texas, then to California, and up the Pacific coast, Nichols said.

Mr. Coolidge probably will leave here in the afternoon of April 25 and return the same night.

It is expected the president will make an important address on this occasion. Editors from all parts of the United States and some from foreign countries will attend the dinner, which, coinciding with the A. N. P. A. meeting in New York, marks the 20th anniversary of the founding of the United Press by the late E. W. Scripps.

Hunter's report will be used in connection with the inquest.

SENATOR CAPPER SEES DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENT TIMBER

THINKS GOV. AL SMITH OF NEW YORK WILL BE THE NOMINEE

SAYS HE HAS STRENGTH IN EAST AND IS GAINING IN SOUTH

Springfield, Ill., March 25.—(UP)—Sen. Arthur Capper of Kansas believes Gov. Al Smith of New York will be the democratic nominee for president in 1928, he told the United Press in an interview today.

"There is no doubt of Smith's strength in the east and he is gaining steadily in the south," he said. "Of course," he added quickly, "there is no chance of his being elected after he secures the nomination."

The Kansas senator declared Coolidge, Dawes, Hoover, Longworth and Lowden are the leading republican candidates. He believes Coolidge strengthened himself in the east and weakened himself in the central west and west by his veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill.

RUMORS OF CHANGES IN THE YANKEE CAMP IN FLORIDA

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 25.—(UP)—Colonel Jacob Ruppert and Miller Huggins, owner and manager respectively of the New York Yankees slipped out of the Yankee camp early today to protect their arms against mors that they had gone to meet Herb Pennock or to another camp to land a pitcher to take Pennock's place.

The players wore heavy sweaters today to protect their arms against the raw wind. Babe Ruth had on two sweaters and a rubber shirt and he perspired like a fat man in a Turkish bath.

Matinee Ladies

BY William B. Courtney

"MATINEE LADIES," with May McAvoy, is a Warner Bros. picture production of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Ward, college student, works as a dancing partner for rich women in a New Jersey roadhouse. There he meets the prettiest, sweetest girl he has ever laid eyes on—Sally, the cigarette girl. Reciprocating his interest, she warns him against the mysterious and beautiful Mrs. Hammond, habitué of the Inn, who finds her "thrill" in "hunting" Bob for her loveliest apartment. Mrs. Hammond tells Bob she is an authoress, secretly in search of color; and offers him the free use of her studio, apparently with innocent motives.

Bob was quite overcome by the munificence of Mrs. Hammond's offer. It was, in fact, too munificent.

"How could I ever save up enough to pay you back, Della? Why, it must cost you a small fortune to maintain that apartment."

"Oh, we'll pro rate the cost, on some fair basis. After all, it's my workroom. It's merely being loaned to you. And the cost isn't so awfully much. There's only a bedroom, bath, living room, dinette and kitchenette. Your meals will be served by the maid, brought up from a central kitchen. What do you say, Bob? Like to run over now and have a look at it?"

Bob hesitated a long, long minute. He felt Mrs. Hammond's eyes studying him, and after their conversation he was ashamed to appear dubious; but, also, somewhere in the back of his mind he felt another pair of eyes upon him. The stary eyes of little Sally Smith. Caught between two pairs of eyes; that was it!

"You know, Sally Smith, I'm awfully fond of you."

Still, if he felt that Mrs. Hammond's offer was morally legitimate, strictly businesslike, purely philanthropic, why should the phrase "caught between two pairs of eyes" leap into his mind? There should be no conflict between these two women in his life. What each meant to him, was doing for him, would benefit the other. Mrs. Hammond's philanthropy would insure his future success and prosperity, and thus aid his love for Sally, and Sally's love for him.

There was only one thing to do before he could with safety and honor accept Mrs. Hammond's proposition. He must go to Sally, acquaint her with the offer, and convince her of Mrs. Hammond's purely friendly motives. He must get Sally's tacit approval, and in getting it, win Sally's trust and faith in Mrs. Hammond.

Bob abruptly faced Mrs. Hammond, and declared:

"It's bully of you, Della. I still don't understand why you should single me out for your generosity, for your wonderful counsel and aid; but I do appreciate it, deeply. I may be able to repay the money debt, but I can never repay the deed."

"You will accept, then, Bob, and move in, and make yourself at home!" eagerly.

"I—I think I will. But I want just a little more time to think it over. There are so many things to be considered, you know, Della. He hesitated, uncertain in his guilelessness whether or not he ought to be completely frank. He decided that he would; and continued:

"I want to tell Sally Smith about your goodness. I want her to understand that in doing this you're doing her as much of a service as you are doing me. I want—to get her approval."

Mrs. Hammond set her perfect body back into the perfect pillows of her perfect car again. Only this time she was not perfectly happy. This time her beautiful body was not relaxed—but taut as a harp string, and quivering as such a string might, under the lashing of a passionate storm.

Yet, her eternally inscrutable smile masked the sting of her defeat. Of Victory suddenly turned to defeat!

CHAPTER XIV

Meanwhile, the skeins of the elaborate net that Mrs. Hammond was weaving around Bob, had reached into the gentle life of Sally Smith, and were tangling her combed-honey hair, her slender legs, all unbeknown to her. For Sally was such a precious little gosling, and Mrs. Hammond and Madame Leonine and Mazie Revere were such ravenous hawks!

In her implacable hunt to win the physical love of Bob Ward, Mrs. Hammond had recognized that the bond of affection and attachment growing up so swiftly between Bob and little Sally Smith was going to prove an insurmountable barrier presently, unless she quickly found a way to breach it. Having at her disposal the influence, the wealth, the time to prepare exhaustive plans and to secure the best aid, she had reached right down into little Sally's private life and personal affairs.

In ways best known to herself, she had investigated enough to know the conditions of Sally's home, and to learn about Tom Mannion. Again, in ways best known to herself, but more apparent, she seen to it that Tom Mannion became known to Mazie Revere.

Enlisting the aid of Madame Leonine and Mazie Revere, who of course had their own reasons for pandering to every little whim of Mrs. Hammond's, the wealthy huntress of men inserted the barbed tip of her first wedge between Sally and Bob. The event of the afternoon, in which Madame Leonine had dispatched Sally to Mazie Revere's with a message, was the beginning.

Sally had gone without delay to Mazie's home, in the mid-fifties on the east side of Madison Avenue, and had primly delivered her message—an innocuous verbal communication.

Mazie, affecting a grown-up concern in Sally, had cordially invited her in to rest. Sally protested at first, because she was anxious to get home and dispose of her things, but she could get a good night's sleep and be fresh and bright for the picnic with Bob on the morrow.

Mazie won her over to a brief visit by offering to show her through the apartment. Womanlike, Sally was anxious to see the place. She knew that Mazie had a lot of money, and that she coined it from many and diverse gentlemen friends in the process commonly known around the Palisado Inn as "gold-digging."

Sally, however, was hardly prepared for the revelation of ornate grandeur that followed. The place was simply palatial—in little Sally Smith's eyes, trained, as they were, to the modest things of a pinched home. Endless corridors and rooms, a roof garden, gorgeous draperies.

It was just like Sally had seen in vampire moving pictures. She was not thrilled half so much as overwhelmed.

But if feminine curiosity had been responsible for Sally's brief stay, something more tangible and startling gave her further pause.

When they had sat down for a minute in the great living room, before the open hearth, where Mazie insisted upon installing Sally in the biggest and softest chair, Mazie propped herself on the arm beside her, put a friendly hand on Sally's slim shoulder and smiled gaily.

"You know, Sally Smith, I'm awfully fond of you, even though I get a bit impatient with you at times because you pass up opportunities that I'd grab in a minute. Not that I don't admire you for your gumption, of course, kid, for I do. But that ain't what I want to talk about. The fact is, dearie, I've a surprise for you."

Sally looked up, utterly bewildered.

"Yes," smiled Mazie, "I know you'll be pleased. I'm going to throw a house party here tonight, and I want you to come as my special guest."

"Oh!" gasped Sally, which meant neither yes nor no, nor anything; and Mazie gave her no chance to recover and become definite, but continued, talking rapidly and in-gratingly.

"Fact is, too, honey, that I know how shy you are, and so that you won't feel alone and strange with so many new faces, I've asked a friend of yours to come along, to escort you. Tom Mannion!"

"Mr. Mannion? Mazie, how in the world did you get to know Tom Mannion, or that he knew me?" Mazie chuckled: "Oh, don't worry now about his morals, dearie. He ain't one of the kind that I or my girl friends play for a sucker. Tom's all right. He's a nice clean fellow, with a mighty big future ahead of him in this man's burg."

RAIN AND SLEET IN THE UPPER MISSISSIPPI AREA

ADD TO FURTHER DIFFICULTIES TO THE ALREADY FLOODED RIVER

WINONA HARASSED BY HIGH WATER FOR PAST FORTNIGHT

St. Paul, Minn., March 25.—(UP)—Rain and sleet in the upper Mississippi valley today added further difficulties to the already flooded river.

Winona, harassed by high water for the past fortnight, was destined to still worse conditions as government gauges recorded 11.5 feet of water there and today's burden still awaited.

Battering currents have rushed over the levee there for the past week washing the lower sections of the town and creeping higher and higher into the business district.

Railroad tracks in the down river town were weakened by the flood waters as were tracks on the Wisconsin side.

Hastings today reported the river to be falling although the load brought by the sleet today had not yet arrived there.

YOUNG MILL WORKER IS VICTIM OF LANDRY'S DISEASE

Fall River, Mass., March 25.—(UP)—Artificial respiration methods such as those employed in the case of Alfred Frick of Chicago have not yet been resorted to in the battle to save the life of Gil Estrella, 22-year-old mill-worker and victim of Landry's disease.

Estrella's name today remained on the danger list at Union hospital, to which he was taken Monday.

Because the creeping paralysis had not yet affected the patient's respiration, the 150 members of the Paramount Swimming club who yesterday volunteered their services, had not been called upon.

Seek to Force the Israelite House of David Into Receivership

Benton Harbor, Mich., March 25.—(UP)—Attorneys leading the state's fight to force the Israelite House of David into receivership will leave here Sunday on a tour of 30 cities where they will secure depositions from former members of the colony. It was announced today.

Lawyers representing the cult also will make the trip, which will cover nearly 5,000 miles.

First the attorneys will go to Texas, then to California, and up the Pacific coast, Nichols said.

PRES. COOLIDGE TO SPEAK AT THE UNITED PRESS DINNER

Washington, March 25.—(UP)—President Coolidge will go to New York April 25, to speak at the dinner of the United Press associations commemorating the organization's twentieth anniversary, the White House announced today.

Mr. Coolidge probably will leave here in the afternoon of April 25 and return the same night.

It is expected the president will make an important address on this occasion. Editors from all parts of the United States and some from foreign countries will attend the dinner, which, coinciding with the A. N. P. A. meeting in New York, marks the 20th anniversary of the founding of the United Press by the late E. W. Scripps.

Chemical Analysis Indicates Woman Not Victim of Foul Play

Washington, March 25.—(UP)—Chemical analysis made by Dr. Oscar Hunter of George Washington university hospital indicated today that Mrs. Gladys Houck, wife of Dr. Knute Houck, psychiatrist, had not swallowed poison nor been a victim of foul play.

Her body was found in the Anacostia river this week and her husband is held in Albany, Ore., pending outcome of the inquest here.

Hunter's report will be used in connection with the inquest.

SENATOR CAPPER SEES DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENT TIMBER

THINKS GOV. AL SMITH OF NEW YORK WILL BE THE NOMINEE

SAYS HE HAS STRENGTH IN EAST AND IS GAINING IN SOUTH

Springfield, Ill., March 25.—(UP)—Sen. Arthur Capper of Kansas believes Gov. Al Smith of New York will be the democratic nominee for president in 1928, he told the United Press in an interview today.

"There is no doubt of Smith's strength in the east and he is gaining steadily in the south," he said. "Of course," he added quickly, "there is no chance of his being elected after he secures the nomination."

The Kansas senator declared Coolidge, Dawes, Hoover, Longworth and Lowden are the leading republican candidates. He believes Coolidge strengthened himself in the east and weakened himself in the central west and west by his veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill.

RUMORS OF CHANGES IN THE YANKEE CAMP IN FLORIDA

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 25.—(UP)—Colonel Jacob Ruppert and Miller Huggins, owner and manager respectively of the New York Yankees slipped out of the Yankee camp early today to protect their arms against mobs that they had gone to meet Herb Pennock or to another camp to land a pitcher to take Pennock's place.

The players wore heavy sweaters today to protect their arms against the raw wind. Babe Ruth had on two sweaters and a rubber shirt and he perspired like a fat man in a Turkish bath.

REED COMMITTEE TO EXAMINE BALLOTS

Media, Pa., March 25.—(UP)—Court orders for the transfer of Delaware county's 200 odd ballot boxes to Washington for investigation by the Reed committee will only be issued when formally requested by Jerry South, deputy of the committee, or another representative of it.

This was announced this afternoon by Judge W. R. Fronefield when action on a resolution submitted by the county commissioners agreeing to the transfer of the boxes was withheld.
